Self-Assessment Survey

1st time:
December 2021
(score 790)

“Very Good Performance Levels”

2nd time:
January 2023
(score 936)

“Excellence in Performance”

Respondent of the survey are 20 employees (consists of judges, registrar, and staffs)

Methodology:

- Review the self-assessment checklist provided in Appendix of the guide International Framework of Court Excellence

- Divide the teams into seven groups according to the number of inspection areas

- Composed of cross-functional teams from technical and non-technical areas.

- Each team member filled the self-assessment checklist and handed the result to The Assessor Team.

- Assessor team count the result and prepare recapitulations as a benchmark to arrange improvement plans.

- The results of the assessment reviewed and approved by the Chief Judge of District Court Calang.

The background features a collage of vintage-style elements. At the top, there are clusters of small, light-colored flowers with green leaves, set against a backdrop of aged, yellowish paper with faint, handwritten cursive text. The overall aesthetic is warm and historical.

The Improvements

The Challenges

Since IFCE is also in compliance with the Indonesian Supreme Court's periodic assessment programs such as: Integrity Zone, Internal Audit and Quality Assurance Certification, we believe that we have not identified any significant obstacles to the implementation of IFCE.
