

Center for Jury Studies

Guest: Tom Munsterman

The Art of Jury Studies – In the Beginning Was Munsterman

Tom Munsterman can justly be called the founder of modern jury studies. In a stroke of good luck for all jury trial managers, he evolved from being an electrical engineer to the “go to guy” for court administrators to solve trial management challenges. This episode of Jury Talk includes entertaining stories of things Tom has done for troubled trial courts and instructive lessons for today’s students of juries

Resources mentioned in this episode:

Publications

Principles for Juries and Jury Trials (ABA, 2005)

The Judges' Journal

Entities

American Bar Association

National Bar Association

Conference of Chief Justices

Conference of State Court Administrators

People

Robert J. Grey

Mike Dan

Judge Stovall

Contact Us

Host - Judge Gregory Mize (Ret.)

E-mail: gempredictions@mac.com

Phone: (202) 607-6111

Producer - Laney Snyder

E-mail: esnyder@ncsc.org

Phone: (757) 969-3684

Other Jury Resources

- Center for Jury Studies Website
- The National Center for State Courts Library ^Collection
- The e-newsletter Jur-E Bulletin