Vigilance in the Time of Injustice - Past, Present and Future:

The Role of Law Students and Lawyers in Realizing Social Justice

WHEN:
Tuesday, May 25, 2021
5:45 - 7:15 p.m. (EDT)

**REGISTER HERE**

This program is free and open to law students and young lawyers (newly admitted through ten years.) Registration is required.

For more information or to request accommodations, contact ncrefc@ncsc.org.

Join us for the Inaugural Listening Session for Law Students and Young Lawyers sponsored by the National Consortium on Racial and Ethnic Fairness in the Courts.

As part of the 32nd conference and annual meeting of the National Consortium and in observance of the one year anniversary of the murder of George Floyd, you are invited to participate in this national event.

The discussion will include:

- What was on your social justice and anti-racist agenda before the murder of George Floyd?
- How, if at all, have the events of 2020 and the anti-Asian violence of 2021 changed these efforts and your view of lawyering?
- What solutions are we as members of the legal community going to pursue to harness today's energies to sustain lasting justice?
