

Commonwealth of Puerto Rico
General Court of Justice
Office of Court Administration
Office of Education and Community Relations

We will determine if these sentences are Myths or Realities.

1. The Judicial Branch is in charge of initiating a criminal case when it is understood that a person has committed a crime.
2. A judge and a bailiff are employees of the Judicial Branch, while a prosecutor and a police officer are employees of the Executive Branch.
3. The Judicial Branch is composed of the Department of Justice, the Supreme Court, and the Office of Court Administration.
4. The Court of First Instance has superior and municipal judges.
5. The Judicial Branch offers free mediation services in its three judicial regions.
6. The Judicial Branch of Puerto Rico has an office in charge of developing materials and educational activities for the community.
7. To address a situation of conflicts between neighbors, a person must go to the court through legal representation and pay duties or internal revenue stamps to the court.

For the leaders dialogue